

Blackmail Scamming

a complex and psychologically intrusive subset of cybercrime in which offenders exploit victims fears, secrets, and emotional vulnerabilities for financial, social and psychological gain

Sextortion

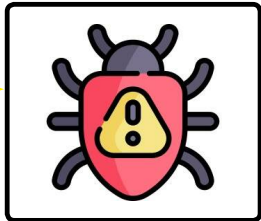

"...making threats to share [explicit] images to coerce the victim into complying with certain demands, such as paying a ransom, sharing intimate images, or engaging in unwanted acts"

Romance Scams

"...uses a fake identity to gain a victim's affection and trust"; "...uses the illusion of a romantic or close relationship to manipulate and/or steal from the victim"

Ransomware

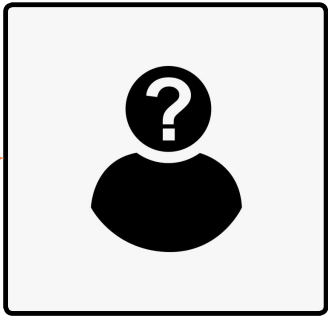

"...malware that prevents you from accessing your computer files, systems, networks and demands you pay a ransom for their return"

Pig-butchering Scams

"...online investment fraud where scammers create fake personas to gain victims' trust and steal money"; "The term 'pig-butcher' comes from the scammer's practice of 'fattening up' their victims by building trust over time before 'slaughtering' them by stealing their money"

Impersonation Scams

"...scammer will contact you in anyway to convince you that they are someone in authority or someone you know"; "...scammers want you to trust them so they can steal your personal information and money"